

James Macdonald M.I.D.E

Demolition Principal

James MacDonald is a demolition professional with over 25 years of commercial, project management, site supervision and operations experience in the UK demolition/construction industry. His knowledge and expertise embraces the full spectrum of demolition activities.

James works closely with all members of the M&M Demolition's Management team and workforce.

Responsibilities

- Review all Company Policies & Procedures Manual.
- Review the Senior Management and Site Teams.
- Review & approve the Supply Chain Processes.
- Review that the Company maintains the highest levels of quality to its clients in accordance with its ISO9001 Accreditations.
- To attend regular Management Meetings to review Health and Safety, Business Performance and Develop Future Business Plan.
- Conduct Health and Safety Audits.
- Meet with current and potential clients and offer guidance in order to provide solutions to their specific needs and concerns.
- Complete substantial tender returns and evaluate supply chain partner quotations.
- Promote the Company and its first class services at every opportunity.

Training and qualifications

- Member of the Institute of Demolition Engineers
- Construction Skills Certification Scheme (CSCS Professionally Qualified Person Level

Key Competencies

James has extensive knowledge and his expertise embraces the full spectrum of demolition activities including hard and soft interior stripping, asbestos and hazardous waste removal, groundworks, concrete breaking and crushing, site remediation and recycling.

As the former Managing Director at General Demolition, James was responsible for the day-today running of the business, allocating resources to a wide range of demolition projects throughout London, the Home Counties and the South of England. His responsibilities client liaison, project negotiations, cost analyses and implementation of safety management systems throughout the business.

Brief project experience

During his career, James has been involved in the demolition of numerous structures throughout the UK ranging from commercial offices, high rise residential towers, shopping centers, defense and healthcare facilities through to airport terminal buildings, warehouses and industrial manufacturing plants.

50+ YEARS